

Tennyson Taken Off.

The latest number of Blackwood's Magazine contains a new version of Old Mother Hubbard, a burlesque entitled "Sir Tray: an Arthurian Idyll," which very aptly hits Tennyson in his vulnerable points. The specimen:—
The widowed dame of Hubbard's ancient line
Turned to her cupboard, owned an assiduous
Butler, this wall and that, in quest of ought
To satisfy the cravings of Sir Tray.
Picked a red companion of her kindred,
Red-spotted, dirty-waiter, and bare of rib,
Who followed at her high and pattering heels;
Prayer in his eyes, prayer in his slinking gait,
Prayer in his piteous palpitating tail.
Wide on the creaking jaws revolved the door,
The cupboard yawned, deep-throated, thinny set
For such, with a bottle, canisters,
And plates of various pattern, blue or white;
Deep in the void she thrust her hot-kissed
Piercing near-sight for the wished-for bone,
While her short robe of samite, tilted high,
The thrifty darlings of her nose revealed.
Wherefore Sir Tray arose all dinnierless,
Licking his paw beneath the spinning wheel,
And meditating much on savory meats.

THE AIR-LINE ROAD.

First Train from Charlotte to Spartanburg—Popular Rejoicings—The Court of Sessions After the Liquor-Dealers.
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SPARTANBURG, March 31, 1873.
United this day, by the honorable the president and directors of the Atlanta and Richmond Air-Line Railway, the Town of Spartanburg, South Carolina, to the City of Charlotte, North Carolina, in the strong bands of railroad marriage. This union was celebrated by an excursion train leaving the home of the bride at 8 o'clock A. M. and reaching the happy groom at 3 o'clock P. M. and was received with hearty congratulations by the populace and welcome speeches by the Hon. Gabriel Cannon and Simpson Bobo, with responses by the Hon. the mayor of Charlotte.
Soon after the arrival of the train the fair ones of the town decorated the engines handsomely with wreaths and flowers, fresh made and pulled. Salutes were fired from the batteries near by, and the town bells rang merrily. There was an excellent dinner prepared by mine host of the Palmetto, given to those who accompanied the train, to the citizens of the town, and a general smile of pleasure and satisfaction ended, for the present, the grand dinner. In the future the same train will run on schedule time, leaving the City of Charlotte on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 8 o'clock A. M., and arrive at Spartanburg on the same days at 3 o'clock P. M. Returning, leave Spartanburg on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, at 8 o'clock A. M., and arrive at Charlotte at 3 o'clock P. M.
The Court of Sessions opened for the spring term this morning, Judge M. Moses presiding, whose charge to the new grand jury was plain and forcible, and so clear that they could not well misunderstand their duties. He held that all licenses for retailing spirituous liquors, granted heretofore by town councils, county commissioners or city authorities, except under the special provisions of the act of 1849, known as the Tupper law, were null and void, and the parties so retailing were liable to indictment in the Court of Sessions.
This created quite a shaking among the dry bones of the dispensers of old hogg alcohol, and the clerk of the two boards—town council and county commissioners—had to wield a swift pen in making out applications for licenses on the Tupper law, clearing the balance of the day, as it was understood their sins for the past would be forgiven if their acts for the future were in all respects legal and correct. The court adjourned at 12 M., as sufficient business was not ready for action, and the grand jury had not time to report on new bills just given out. It will resume labor to-morrow at ten, when a variety of misdemeanors will come up for trial. Only one capital case is on the docket, which is that of the State vs. Columbus Mitchell, for the homicide of his uncle, which has hitherto been reported in your paper.
We regret to learn the special commissioner and excellent conductor on the Spartanburg and Union Railroad had his thighs and leg severely crushed and some of the fingers of his hand cut off, in attempting to couple two cars on their way up by the last train.

SPRING TRADE OF 1873.

THE SUBSCRIBERS, WHO ARE AMONG THE MOST PROMINENT JOBBERS AND WHOLESALE DEALERS IN THE CITY OF CHARLESTON, S. C., beg to call the attention of the merchants of the interior of this and the adjoining States to this market, as being one of the most desirable in which to procure full supplies of all articles they may require.

The advantages of a near market in affording facilities for frequent renewal of Stocks, and in saving interest on investments, cannot be over-estimated.

The wants of the country having rapidly increased, with ample facilities to enable us to procure our supplies direct from first hands in Europe and this country, we are now prepared to exhibit more varied and complete stocks of SEASONABLE GOODS than at any period since the war, and will dispose of them on as good terms as any other market.
